Dean's Speech

Prof. Saeed Ahmed Khan

My most important duty on this special day is to offer a warm welcome to our honoured guests, family members, graduating students and colleagues. This is an event we have all been anxiously waiting for—the Graduation Ceremony! Let's join in congratulating our graduates of Dubai Medical and Pharmacy Colleges.

Being the founding member of this institution, with more than two decades of service here, I am excited to be a part of this truly historic moment of Dubai Pharmacy College. I have had the privilege of initiating the two ceremonial masters' programs with real impact. – CLINICAL PHARMACY and PHARMACEUTICAL PRODUCT DEVELOPMENT. These are most dynamic sectors of the modern economy providing not only jobs but innumerable other opportunities. By introducing these two major specializations, we have helped guide the changing landscape of health-care and pharmacists roles. Most importantly, our first batch of Masters' students will assume the role of pharmacy specialists through a wide variety of practices.

We are committed to providing our students with the best possible education to prepare them for their future careers. To equip our students to meet the challenges of hospitals and industries, we need to provide them with appropriate practical lessons and enhance their understanding through experiential learning. In order to support these aims, we are exceedingly grateful to have the support of Dubai Health Authority, Iranian Hospital, Global Pharma and Julphar. I recognize that this is an entrustment of professional benevolence and will continue to foster and nurture relationships with them.

Dean's Speech (...contd)

Our valedictorian speakers, Sara (BPharm), Eman (Clinical Pharmacy) and Zahra (Pharmaceutical Product Development), will deliver three personal reflection speeches on their experiences. These reflections highlight the qualities that make up the unique student body at DPC: diverse, dependable, caring, compassionate, resourceful, talented, and hard working. It is important to stress at the outset that these accomplishments, however heroic, are not those of our graduates alone. Behind each and every one of our graduates is a story of family and friends who stood by.

Let us honor the faculty. They have worked hard to give you a sense of mastery. They have offered you their passion for the profession, and in the process they have forever altered the horizons in which you shall sail forward into your life. Also, we take this moment to thank those staff members of the DPC Community who have worked so hard to make your time comfortable and secure.

Our mission is to cultivate those professionals who will become the next generation leaders. And wish our graduates every success in their future careers. The clock is ticking. We are experiencing a massive upsurge in healthcare, and as it grows, pharmaceutical sector is becoming increasingly diverse as patients develop new expectations and experiences. Medical fraternity, clinical pharmacists and pharmaceutical product developers should stand together to build and leverage collective intelligence. It is a great professional association.

Consequently, today's professionals need to combine a sense of entrepreneurship with an awareness of their social and environmental responsibilities, as well as an ability to appreciate cultures other than their own. I hope we have done so by giving you three gifts: Knowledge, Skills and Competencies. But for now, on behalf of faculty, community, and the proud profession of which you shall soon be a part: Congratulations!

Thank you one and all.

Valedictorian Speech (MPharm- Pharmaceutical Product Development)

Respected faculty, families, friends and guests,

I'm proud to stand in front of you today on the behalf of my graduating colleagues to share with you our feelings at this moment. We are deeply honored to be the first graduates with MPharm degree from Dubai Pharmacy College. We would like to express our greatest gratitude to our father, Haj Saeed Al Lootah for establishing this institute and giving us the valuable opportunity to continue our education inside this country, to our dean Dr. Saeed Khan for working day and night to make this dream come true, as well as to our faculty and professors who made great efforts to pour the extract of their so many years of experience right in front of us in the simplest way to get.

Today we are earning a master degree in drug formulations development from the first college to offer this degree in the UAE. We are very pleased to be the experts in solving any challenging problem at any step of the drug development process, starting from the early formulation designing, dosage form modifications, commercial manufacturing and efficient drug delivery.

We are now well equipped to start a revolution in the world of drug development and industrial production in this part of the region.

Valedictorian Speech (MPharm- Pharmaceutical Product Development) (...contd)

7 years back I was standing in a similar situation celebrating my bachelor graduation. At that moment I was thinking that I have reached the highest peak of knowledge, but then later I discovered that I was absolutely wrong. Once I enrolled into the master program I started to observe science with a totally different view. I got to know that it is much wider and much deeper than I ever thought. Today I am admitting that there is a lot much more which I need to learn and explore. I am now certain that this is only an extra step but there is still a much higher ladder to climb. This is giving me the ambitious and crave to ask for more.

We are now remembering 2 years of difficult and hard work, 2 years of continuous challenges but also 2 years of unlimited knowledge. A master program means a new challenge, a new feeling and a new turn point. A point where you decide that you will not stand still. After graduating from the bachelor you start filling your life with a job and settle down with a fixed routine. Then you take the challenge of adding an extra category to your life, to move further with your education. Once you start this step you feel afraid and proud of yourself at the same time, but with the support of God, the support of your loved and close ones, together with your full faith in your capabilities you will be able to make it just as we have made it.

“An investment in knowledge pays the best interest.”

How I see life.....

Fading away,
As everything sway.
It is our contemporary world,
Where wonders unfold,
And the truth remains untold,
While everything is utterly sold.

A petal falls and so does the other,
And on the moist grass they finally gather.
Although they bloom and fall alike,
The controversy of their journey arise.
How life, at once, can be doomed?
And, on the thorns of dilemma, one can be fooled.
A journey it is no matter how small,
Yet, twisted in its feasibility, it sums it all.

Will we ever know?
How they got to grow?
The beauty woven,
Like a blazing oven.
How in such a speechless mean,
Such thriving beauty can gleam?
To what extend can it store?
That's the journey I have longed for.....
